

Children's National Emergency Department at United Medical Center is closing April 15

United Medical Center will permanently close all services on April 15, including the Children's National UMC Emergency Department.

The closure is planned to occur with the April 15 opening of Cedar Hill Regional Medical Center, a new privately operated, full-service hospital, located on the St. Elizabeth's East campus in Ward 8. We remain committed to your and your family's health during this transition.

Where can I get care after April 15?

We are here to serve you at our UMC Emergency Department until April 15 at 11 a.m. After that time, we can continue to serve your medical needs at the following locations. As with all care, if anything is life-threatening, please call 9-1-1.

- Emergency Care: Children's National Hospital, 111 Michigan Ave. NW, Washington, DC 20010, 202-476-5000
- Emergency Care: Luminis Health Doctors Community Medical Center, 8118 Good Luck Rd., Lanham, MD 20706
- Emergency Care: OPENING APRIL 15, 2025 Cedar Hill Regional Medical Center GW Health, 1200 Pecan St. SE, Washington, DC 20032
- Primary Care: Children's National THEARC, 1801 Mississippi Ave. SE, Washington, DC 20020, 202-436-3060
- Primary Care: Children's National Anacostia, 2101 Martin Luther King Ave. SE, Washington, DC 20020, 202-476-6900

To ensure your child's care continues seamlessly, please take time to familiarize yourself with these locations and services before April 15.

It has been an honor to serve you and your family at the Children's National UMC Emergency Department location. We are forever united in the spirit of service and wellness, and look forward to continuing to care for you and your family at our many locations across the region.
